Joseph A. Orgill

Joseph A. Orgill was born on March 19, 1881, at Wellington, Juab County, Utah, son of Mark Orgill and Rachel Isabel Smith Orgill.

He came with his parents to Daniel when it was being settled and, with all the family, helped to clear the land for farming. He married Lily Maude Bell on December 13, 1902. She was a fine wife and mother. She worked in the Church organizations and cared for sister, Elmorea Carlen's, baby and Sarah. Maude died July 21, 1936.

Joseph was the third bishop of the Daniel Ward from 1929 to 1935. He was a farmer and stockman. He also served on the Daniel school board.

Later he married Hazel McKenzie in January, 1937, and they moved to Clearfield and worked at Hillfield.

Joseph and Maude's children were: Alton who died; Darold; and Alta Bell.
